“Time is the coin of your life and all you have to determine is how it will be spent”.

My Dear Christites,

The world, as you all know, has changed in the blink of an eye due to the global spread of the virus. Though the initial apprehensions are over, we are still amidst a kind of havoc and stress. Being confined to our homes we realized that a day has 24 hours and all we have to decide is to spend it in a meaningful way.

Instead of thinking it as an imposed exile, make it a family time with your partner and children you always wanted to have but never had a chance owing to the work pressure and difficult timings. The best inheritance a parent can give his children is a few minutes of his time each day. Be a giver of your time to make more memories, spend quality time with the elderly, have a family cooking session, adopt some new leisurely activities with the kids, just play some board games or even take a walk with them in the garden. Interact with your kids, be a good listener, instil the everlasting values in them and show your affection and appreciation which you had forgotten to do those days due to the hectic schedule. Your time spent with them will be life precious jewels that embed in their memories forever.

Being homebound, rather than engrossed in gadgets like mobile and tablets, students also can make their time beneficial for others. It can be sharing the household chores like cleaning the car, cutting vegetables, tidying up the rooms or even giving the pet dog a bath. Make yourselves available for grandparents too. Sit with them and talk for a while. Let them also feel the warmth of your love and care.

Now it comes at a time when exams are done but the second wave of pandemic has forced everyone to stay home this summer also. In such scenario, teachers can spare a few minutes of their time to make the students engaged in productive activities. Though you have missed the classroom conversation last year, it is easy to build a good relationship with the students if you could make a call to any one of your students daily and have a healthy conversation with them. Give them small tasks such as learning a new poem, painting a picture or a paper craft in accordance with their taste which will surely create within them an affinity towards you. Life is all about time, the most valuable thing someone can spend. It is indeed the precious gift you can give your loved ones. Be a giver of time and undoubtedly you will be placed in everyone's hearts.

Dear ones, as we wind up this academic year, let me express my gratitude to the teachers who worked sincerely and relentlessly for the smooth functioning of our school despite of the formidable adversities faced. I also express my wholehearted appreciation to all my students for their excellence in academics and enthusiastic participation in all other activities. Salute you dear parents for motivating and supporting our young Christites to continue the learning. Let's pray for a peaceful year ahead though the reopening of the school is uncertain.

I wish you all safe holidays and abundance of joy and laughter with your family. Make use of this blessed time effectively and also spread kindness to others.

Excelsior My Dear Christites.

Vice Principal's Message

The way we spend our time defines who we are. -Jonathan Estrin

My dear Christites,

The best gift that you could ever give someone is your time because you're giving them something that you'll never get it back. Time is free, but it's priceless. You can't own it, but you can use it. You can't keep it, but you can spend it. Once you've lost it, you can never get it back.

According to Charles Broxton, you will never 'find' time for everything, if you want time, you must make it. Don't always say "there's still time" or "maybe next time" because there's also a concept of "it's too late". Time doesn't heal anything; it just teaches us how to live with the pain.

Teach your children to be a giver of time, teach them to spend time with the family, grandparents and loved ones, this will change their perception of time and they become more open to new opportunities. Serving ourselves is limiting. Serving others is empowering. Train and be an example of giving time by being open to doing more, having the intent to helping others, being connected, and doing it now gives more than just a sense of satisfaction. It makes a real difference in every aspect of our lives.

If you start giving your time with intention, every day, you'll find that you will start to make a real difference in your life. Slowly at first, but it will change. People will start to treat you differently because you treat them differently. You'll start to ask "how" can I do this, rather than "why." You'll start to see opportunities rather than problems.

We do have time to make a difference. Start by giving time today.

Fr. Martin Onasseril CMI

Financial Administrator's Message

BE A GIVER OF TIME

My Dear Christities,

While reflecting on this beautiful theme of "Be a Giver of Time", what has come to my mind are the words of Pope Francis addressed at the Meeting of the German Alter Servers on 5th August 2014, "Our life is made of time and time is God's gift, and it is therefore important to make use of it by performing good and fruitful actions." How true it is to say that time is nothing other than life itself. Our being cannot be separated from our time. Giving time to others is equal to giving ourselves. In a world in which time has become the scarcest "commodity", spending time for others and with others is to be considered as the greatest gift. It is giving ourselves to others.

The most dreadful situation for anyone is loneliness and this has become an ubiquitous and pervasive reality in the present time. A large number of people especially the elderly either live alone or experience loneliness. To this global reality of loneliness is added today the depressive and fearful isolation and seclusion, consequent to the pandemic. It is in this world and in this context that we are to support others joyfully giving them what they would consider most valuable – our time. We must be kind in listening others, generous in speaking to them and most importantly joyful in being with them. Time is the only gift equally distributed by God to all. But not all make use of this precious gift rightly. Some squander it on useless things, some waste it through laziness and some spend it for themselves. But some give to others generously. It is those that wisely use the time for themselves and generously spend it for others who understand the real value of time as a precious gift of God. In giving our time for others, we must follow the instruction of St. Paul, "Each one must do just as he has purposed in his heart, not grudgingly or under compulsion, for God loves a cheerful giver." (II Cor 9,7).

I wish and pray that we all understand time as a precious gift of God to us and that we become generous in sharing this precious gift with others!!!!

Fr. Reji Koodappattu CMI

Time has a wonderful way of showing us what really matters

Time plays a significant role in our lives. It helps us to make a good habit of organising and structuring our daily activities. Time once past cannot be brought back by any mean. Every people have to walk in any mode of life with the punctuality. It is vital for the better life. We are connected within our communities; we are happier and more productive. Giving time is much more fundamental to our well-being than just volunteering or doing good things. It's a foundation on which we can build a better life for ourselves while we build a better neighbourhoods and communities. It's a safe and solid way to become more integrated into our communities, to build networks and friendships, and learn to act with intentions. We are happy when we have family and friends around us. Spending time with family and friends is one of the best ways to create memorable experiences. Nothing can replace the time you spend with them. It is beneficial to your mental well being, as well as your relationships.

Time is the most precious gift because you only have a set amount of it. You can make more money, but you can't make more time. When you give someone your time, you are giving them a portion of your life that you will never get back. Your time is your life. That is why the greatest gift you can give someone is your time. It is not enough to just say relationships are important: we must prove it by investing time in them. Words alone are worthless. "My dear children, our love should not be just words and talk; it must be true love, which shows itself in action." Relationships take time and effort, and the best way to spell love is T-I-M-E.

So, this time of year let's be focused on spending quality time with those that matter the most to you and building new experiences that can last a lifetime.

Be a Giver of Time

"The greatest gift you can give someone is your time. Because when you give your time, you are giving a portion of your life that you will never get back."

Giving is something precious and great as it gives utmost happiness to the receiver and satisfaction to the giver. It's very important to understand that giving something which we can receive back will not give complete satisfaction. What to give, when to give and whom to give are essential. When we love unconditionally someone or something, we give without expecting any benefit out of that. Therefore, for giving, first, we must love others. We all love unconditionally our family, friends, job, and the people who are familiar to us. But have we ever thought of loving the humanity? That's very important. Everyone may not have the same amount of money, but everyone has the equal amount of time. People are ready to spend money but most of the people are not ready to spend time as it can't be compensated with any other thing. First, we must start spending time with our family members, especially with the elderly people. They are the ones who want to talk more as they can't do anything else due to their health conditions. Giving time can be practiced from our very families and spread among the humanity. We must keep in mind the importance of giving time, especially, during this pandemic time and inculcate the same value among our children too.

PARENT'S TALK

Be a Giver of Time

In a world full of givers and takers, we find that majority of us belong to the former. I would say it is an inherent trait, thanks to evolution, we have all been more excited about being on the receiving end of things which is not entirely wrong or selfish as our primitive ancestors only worried about feeding and clothing themselves. But being the intellects that we are and given that we are the most evolved species, we should use our gift of intellect to channel our instincts into being better givers than takers. What is the most valuable thing that we can give without digging a hole through our pockets or convenience? Time.

Time is the easiest, most valuable and an important necessity for humans. It is ironic how the most important thing in our lives is not a real thing! Time is not a vector, i.e., it is not something that we can see, hold or scale. It is not matter, neither is it space but is merely an illusory human conception that helped us defy and define our lives. But why is time given so much significance? To answer that, I must point out another inevitably significant part of human life – relationships. Be it parental, professional, romantic, family or any other type, relationships are something that humans cannot live without. Introverts value maintaining a relationship with themselves, extroverts with a wide social group, workaholics with their career, some with their pets and others with objects and their surroundings; whatever the nature might be, it all circles back to the importance of having a good relationship. Time happens to be the foundation of sustaining a healthy relationship with anyone or anything. One would realise the importance of time only when they lose something/someone because of it.

Would it be possible to acknowledge and practice the importance of time without having to jeopardise something? Does time demand sacrifice? "Prevention is better than cure" is the go-to mantra to avoid going through the absence and consequence of time in our lives. Not only does it help and heal us, but it could also benefit anybody around us. Coworker having a bad day? Lend your ear. New parents finding it difficult to spend time together? Offer to babysit whenever possible. Student/employee finding it hard to cope with work due to personal struggles? Offer them some time off. The solution to a lot of problems around us happen to have a common solution that costs us nothing.

A non-existent, imaginary concept controls and regulates an existent, real world. This irony might just be the answer to a lot of questions that we ask. We are so materialistic in nature that we fail to see how an illusion solves most of our real-world problems. Let us be more open minded and far sighted towards ourselves and the people around us. Be a giver of time because time heals, time sustains, and time evolves.

Be a Giver of Time

Time is something which is particularly important in our lives. We must spend a certain amount of time for everything. For example, Diego Maradona became a football champion because he dedicated a lot of time for his passion.

What is common between great skills, great physique, great businesses and great relationships? They are created and nurtured by giving the required amount of time. Both in quantity and quality. Two aspects of time that are very important and crucial. Today we fail because we don't value the strength of giving someone/something our time. Instead, we look for shortcuts and hacks.

We live in the age of crash diets and crash courses, where in the guise of efficiency we compromise on both the quality and quantity of time to achieve anything - a good degree, a healthy body, a strong relationship; an age where we text somebody HBD or forward an image on their birthday rather than take out the time to call or meet them. With time the same relationships and habits fade away into the oblivion. Parents, however educated and well earning they are, need to be around during nurturing years of their children. Substituting it with social media apps, online education apps or any of those gimmicks won't make up for the quality time the child crave from parents.

That's why all successful people, be it in business, in sports or in art have a discipline, a routine which allows them to give the right quality and quantity of time to each item on their routine

But does this mean you give out all of it? Well, we could if it were an infinite resource. But we can't add a single second more to any minute of our life without taking it out from the next.

So, while giving your time to people is the best gift they can get, it is important to limit the time you spend on one thing or one person because

- 1) When you spend extra time with someone or something you take away the time you need to be spending on something else
- 2) When you spend extra time with anybody, people tend to undervalue it and take you for granted however good the deed be.

Today, we live in a world where everything works by money. Hence, we need to put a money value to time.

Time, just like matter, cannot be created or destroyed. It can only be spent from one thing to the other. It is in our hands how we utilize and spend the time available.

What an interesting and challenging year it was, we sincerely appreciate all your efforts you all have taken to conduct the classes virtually.

Thank you for all your patience, flexibility, and compassion during this time. It was a big challenge to conduct such virtual classes, activities & viva online, thanks for the School management and especially the Principal for his support, all the faculties & staffs of Christ School group.

We know it was not easy to be present physically for students and trying to attend online classes and hope most of them would be wondering if they are doing enough to reach all the students. Anyway, it's all done for this year and you all have done a wonderful job, we parents appreciate your efforts in teaching and bringing our children a good shape to move forward into another academic year.

Thank you all again for supporting and fostering our children, providing continued lessons, activities, feedbacks, videos, and MERAKI, ensuring that our children social and emotional needs are met.

So please remember to take time for yourselves, health, your families, which is also more important to everyone. All your hard work is greatly appreciated, and you all are doing a great and incredible job.

Thanking You from the bottom of our heart.

For the online classes, we all were so sceptical about them. No one in their remotest idea ever thought that 1st-grade kids will be exposed to online classes and that too for the whole academic year. No primary, middle school or high school teacher ever anticipated that they have to create PowerPoint presentations, word documents or excel as a part of their core teaching journey. In my honest opinion, if not wrong most of the teachers, students, or parents never knew about Microsoft Teams just 365 days before.

But here we are, completed a whole academic session through online classes and I believe the entire online journey was a huge success. All the stakeholders, be it the teachers, the students, the school management, and the parents played an exceptional role to make this event a success. The efforts that were put in by the subject teacher were incredible. They not only had to teach but prepare the course material in advance, manage their own personal time, balance time for their family, household chores, and errands along with the school meetings. As a parent, I was amazed to see all the little kids being so obedient and responsive during the online interactions. School Management also ensured that the important events like the Annual Day, Teachers Day, Children's day were duly celebrated with the same pomp and show.

A big shout out to the teachers, and the students for making these online classes successful. Thank you to you Teachers and while saying this we should be humble enough to acknowledge the hardship and the personal losses people had to bear due to the current pandemic and be sympathetic towards them.

Overall, I believe this one year was the year for learning for all of us. Be it the students, the teacher, or the parents, we all have learned something. No wonder it is said - you never stop learning... and the academic year 2020 -21 just taught us that.

Thank you Christ School ICSE, The Management, the Principal and all the wonderful teachers for helping, guiding our kids during pandemic Covid 19 period.

It was not at all an easy task to teach children through Microsoft Teams online classes and reviewing, upgrading our children every day the kid's performance through monthly test or internal assessments and also organizing revisions before conducting tests. It was like Distance Education for our kids learning through this method.

Through online classes our children have become more independent they have cultivated self-learning as well. Initially it was difficult for kids to understand this kind of learning. But it was the teacher's methods of teaching which made our kids become punctual like in regular class. This is just because of the teachers which made our kids become more disciplined even in holidays. Our kids know how to behave everywhere. In Christ we have been observing good moral values learnt by our kids because of school. In the offline classes, we must appreciate the teachers in the effort they have put to make such beautiful PowerPoint presentations for making our kids understand each lesson, concepts, skills etc. The type of Study material used in the audio, the offline classes were so audible, clear and neat alignments wherein our kids could understand in easy method.

The attendance the teaching skill the voice modulation was so perfect and neatly presented to the children by the teachers.

Hats off to the class teachers and all the teachers for teaching our kids and motivating our kids to learn, practice, and write during the academic year 2020-2021.

During this pandemic our kids knew how to make use of the time like they made self-time-table like time scheduled for online, offline classes, study time, writing time, play time, sleep time, family time etc,

Time management played a key role for our kids during weekends. I really thank teachers for telling our kids to utilize time.

Thanks to all the Christ Management for supporting our kids in this difficult period.

We highly appreciate your tireless efforts to shape the future of our ward. Your steadfast, disciplinarian yet motherly approach is very impressive and I am sure, will enormously contribute to the tender minds and their future.

The year has been a very challenging one and regardless of the insurmountable challenges posed by the COVID 19, CHRIST School (ICSE) under the stewardship of Rev. Fr. Nilson Davis CMI has taken very bold and constructive steps to shape the future of the children. It has not succumbed to the pressure rather raised above it and taken care of the curricular as well as co-curricular interest of the children under its care. Such uncompromising steps are very commendable and worthy of accolades. We are highly obliged for such efforts.

When you give it to them, they gather it up; when you open your hand, they are filled with good things (Psalms 104.-28)

As per God's words, Christ School ICSE has given a lot to our children in this (2020 – 21) academic year and they gathered it up and therefore their hands are filled with all goodness. As we all are locked down by this Hover (COVID -19) and life has given the challenge to fight back this pandemic situation, some chose to run away and hide, some chose to be ignorant but few blessed people chose to fight back this hover through God's will.

Christ School ICSE took the promise and chose to be the Altruista of love, peace, positivity, knowledge, compassion, hope, virtue and time to our children so that they are not locked by this situation and by involving them in many activities.

Giver of Love - International day of the girl child, Army Day

Giver of Peace – World Disabled Day, The United Nations Day

Giver of Positivity - PTM's, All religious festivals

Giver of Knowledge - Olympiad's, Spell Bee's

Giver of Compassion - Children's Day, Principal's Day

Giver of Hope - Meraki, VIVA sessions.

Giver of Virtue – Creadora, DCL, Blooms, Virtual Competitions.

Few that I could pen down but many are treasured in our mind and soul. By taking up handful of Hope we could see the best version of our children getting ready for the next new academic year of great Blessing. I give my heartfelt thanks to our Principal for giving such a calm and peaceful year. A big round of applause to all the teachers who did their great work.

I'm sure no one could have imagined that we would spend a whole academic year this way. The disruptions from the global pandemic have brought about a new normal in many ways. Online learning at Christ School ICSE is most definitely one of them.

When campus was closed, all classes were shifted to online platform quickly and this included sessions with teachers on Microsoft Teams. The experience was straight forward, with students being able to access sessions via the app. The teachers recorded videos of the lesson explanation and posted it on the app which could be viewed by the students any number of times. This way, students could listen in their own time making the experience a lot easier.

The students were also well assessed in the form of viva voce, assignments and yearly project works. They also got a chance to showcase their talents through online competitions like "Esperanza", Deepika Children's League and the school annual day "Meraki". Various important celebrations were conducted very well by the teachers and the management, such as Independence Day, World Environment Day, Yoga day, Teacher's day and so on. Thanks to the management, teachers, the principal Rev. Fr. Nilson Davis for the smooth running of the academic year.

For us it's been an academic year of changes, with children attending classes and school activities from home and parents too are working from home. Thankfully, all the staff at Christ school, especially the teaching faculty with their incredible patience and support made our lives easier. I, as a parent of two children studying at Christ School wish to convey my thanks to all the staff, with a very special thanks to the class teachers for coordinating all the school activities.

Since the opening of the school for this academic year, the students and teachers have been in contact on a daily basis with lessons presented, videos, mails and virtual classes. Assignments and projects by students were presented and shared virtually and evaluated by teachers. Apart from regular classes the science exhibition "CREADORA", Inter school competitions, Silver Zone competition, children's day celebration and finally the annual day 'MERAKI' was well managed and a huge stress relief for the children from the daily monotony of attending classes online.

What schools will look like in the future is still uncertain but we know that meeting children's needs academically, socially, emotionally and physically is the primary priority of our school. We are very proud of our principal and teachers, that we want to wholeheartedly say thank you for all your efforts to bring out the best in our children as good students and citizens, despite the challenges posed by the pandemic during this academic year.

"THANK YOU" to the principal, management teachers and staff at Christ School.

I want to express my sincere gratitude for all the efforts that the school and you have taken during this academic year. I realize that this year particularly was extremely challenging for both you and us and I just appreciate and thank you for all the support that you have given.

The pandemic gave way for us to innovate new ways to better ourselves and the education system.

I really appreciate the way; the students received help from their teachers with this new learning technique. I thank all the teachers for the encouraging the students to participate in the various activities that were help during these dreadful times and also having the patience with the parents throughout the year.

I appreciate the principal for maintaining the same enthusiasm and every one behind the execution of all the various competitions, celebrations and annual day. I thank you again for all the wonderful work you have done and wish you all the best for your future endeavors.

It gives me immense pleasure in sharing my feedback on the online classes and various activities conducted in our School. I would like to thank the management and all the teaching and non-teaching staff for their sincere efforts in successfully conducting many activities and events during this pandemic situation.

My special word of appreciation for all the teachers who have conducted the online classes and tests in an effective manner. The teachers made sure that every child is comfortable with the technology and receives their complete attention. My ward has learned the subjects thoroughly and enjoyed the activities conducted through online very much.

I would like to congratulate you all on the successful completion this academic year.

I take this opportunity to thank you all for all the efforts that the school has taken during the pandemic times to give education to the students.

It was truly very difficult times that we all had witnessed. But CHRIST school didn't abate from its duty to give education to its students. School moved ahead and started online classes for the students. We understand all the hard work the teachers had put in to learn the digital platforms and their rigorous preparation of teaching notes and other study materials. For the first time I and my family saw and realized how good the teachers are who teach my son. I actually envy my son and wish I too had such loving and caring and understanding teachers in my times. Each one of the teachers who taught my son were truly professional and excellent in their teaching skills and at the same time very considerate and kind.

The school also kept the students positive and happy by conducting a number of cultural and academic events. This definitely created a very positive environment for the students and helped them to deviate their little minds from the gloomy pandemic situation and difficulties of online learning.

I strongly believe that all this has been possible because of a good team work and it goes without saying that no team can work successfully until and unless they are guided by an efficient leader. We extremely appreciate Father Nilson who with his wisdom and immaculate leadership steered the school through such a dreadful and difficult situation. We could realize that Father Principal and all his staff members had only one goal and that is to give safe and easy education for their students keeping the overall wellbeing and progress of them in the forefront.

We are very appreciative of what you all have accomplished and we look forward to yet another fruitful academic year.

This academic year will always remain as a memorable one, as the pandemic situation changed the complete thought process of offline vs online education. Dear Principal and Teachers, during this pandemic, your continuous efforts in providing education to the little kids along with conducting a lot of online activities have been commendable. It has been, a kind of roller coaster ride for all of us – children, teachers and parents. We parents had a tough time initially, asking the kids to sit through the online classes without having their concentration wander. But I can totally understand what it must have been for the teachers to hold the concentration of the kids and make them understand. All the activities throughout the year including the virtual annual day and the online viva exams were a wonderful experience to cherish. With the whole word juggling around with varied thoughts and ideas on how to make things happen during this year, Christ School was very clear on what and how it had to proceed with providing education this year from Day 1 till the closure of the academic year. This showed the complete dedication of the Principal, the teachers and the students. Way to go! – Kudos to the entire staff of Christ School ICSE.

I really appreciated the management and the teachers for the effort taken by them during this pandemic situation. I think it was really a tough time for the teachers to do the online classes especially for the small class children. According to the Govt. circular, you all arranged the timetable, conducted the online classes and other activities effectively. The teachers were sending the notes and assignment through the Teams was very helpful to the parents to teach their wards. Whenever we called the teachers for any clarifications, they were ready to attend the calls and answer. Thank you for all the support we have received from the school during this pandemic.

I would like to congratulate you on the fantastic changes that you have brought into the online class this academic year, online classes are an innovative way to keep the learning going on even during lockdown. The improvements have been truly dramatic the effort that you have put into take the students into the next level , I hear the students talking enthusiastically about the subjects in the home, children's have become more relaxed to discuss their school at home, your philosophy of enhancing campus life clearly paid off, finally the teachers have expressed their fulfilment with the curriculum amendments that were recently introduced the online classes with great efforts of the teachers and administration in these difficult times. I would like to thank for encouragement for the events conducted by the management and teacher at this part of time like Principal Day, Teachers Day, Annual Day etc., we are very much thankful for the Teachers that they are uploading each and every assignment, revision, question bank through online class and students don't get burdened.

I take great pleasure in sharing my Children's experience during this pandemic, which is highly appreciable. Here, the teachers are so hard working, creative and innovative learning driven by technology. Diligent work for creating innovative work sheets, PPTs and videos for the students. Here, learning is not imposed -- it's happening with fun and knowledge.

All the teachers came-out with well-planned teaching and engaged them with new learning skills with which, you are always connected with the students and they adopt your teaching practices.

Thank you for your patience, flexibility and compassion during this hard period and always.

I would like to sincerely express my gratitude for the amazing work done by the Principal Fr. Nilson Davis and the teachers during the academic year 20-21 which was not only a pandemic year but also stressful one.

During this Pandemic, when no school was functioning all over the country, our principal has directed the faculty to conduct online classes throughout the year. The way online classes were carried on was very regular and systematic. The exams were conducted properly and our kids were studying during the whole year.

I appreciate Christ School, respected principal and all the teachers and management team for their hard work and effort to educate our children, encourage them and make them feel at school when they are actually sitting at home. The way the other regular activities of the school like Teachers Day, Children's Day, principal's Day and Independence Day were conducted was amazing and lovely. The teacher's hard work was really impressive and it shows exceptional discipline and dedication.

I would like to appreciate and congratulate all of you for the same. My words would be less to express my gratitude and respect for father Nilson Davis for all his good work and concern. He is an inspiration for all of us.

Once again thank you Father for everything.

Thank you Christ School ICSE for publishing the newsletter, because of it we are able to know the Events and activities that take place in the school. We all know that during this pandemic situation we all are at home and are unable to neither come to school nor know about the events that occur.

But Christ School ICSE published the newsletter through which we could know about the events and activities. I first of all like to appreciate the Enhancement Skills that was conducted at March.

It helped us to know more about value, general knowledge and many more. I will be very thankful for conducting this event. I even appreciate the D.C.L that was conducted. It gave us a chance to show our talent. The Annual Day that was conducted during this pandemic situation was very good and enjoyable.

I really appreciate everyone for participating in this program. Teacher's Day and Children's Day was celebrated in great joy and we enjoyed it a lot. I would be thankful our beloved Principal and Teacher's for making this program successful. I even enjoyed the Independence Day and Republic day was celebrated, the program like flag hosting, dances, speeches, etc. we're same as we did at school. I would love to thank our Principal, Teachers and non-teaching staff for making this year, events and activities that we used to enjoy when we were at school.

It was a tough time for all of us to get adjusted in the situation due to pandemic, but not for the staff & faculty members of Christ school ICSE. In initial days we didn't have any idea about how the whole academics could be followed through online classes, but the teachers proved it possible not only with academic syllabus, but also with various other activities that they conducted throughout the year. Be that with the celebration of World Environment Day, Teachers Day, children's Day, Independence Day, Republic Day, also festivities like Dasara, Deepawali, Christmas & Onam and other events like DCL, Army day Founders day, Kannada Rajyothsava, Principal's day, which were celebrated through live streaming in the school's official YouTube channel. All classes and even PTM were conducted through Microsoft teams with time-to-time updates, notes and activities.

Every single event, activity, tests and assignments encouraged the students to begin this new phase of learning in a better way, also strengthened every child to take right steps to achieve success towards their brighter future. I'm so grateful to have such dedicated, hardworking and wonderful teachers and faculty members who filled confidence in every child by imparting knowledge to them even at this time of pandemic. It couldn't have been done without you*... thank yo

It is time to show our gratitude towards our school for all the efforts it had taken. All the efforts taken to give us a best learning as the same of the offline learning and even too during the pandemic situation. We had never thought the online classes to be so much productive and interesting as well. We Thank Christ School (ICSE) for coming out with so much innovativeness and that too at the very start of the situation. The utmost dedication of our teachers, our beloved principal and staff members of our school while teaching and too in the creative and constructive activities held (events like annual day, founder's days, principle's day etc., the 10 days (about 1 and a half weeks) training programme for the students to learn new things and even in the competitions like handwriting competition, the quiz competition etc., through online.) can be clearly felt. I am very honest to say that there is not slight difference in the current type of learning. My heartfelt thanks to our principal, teachers, and staff members of our school to take so much effort in making our children's future bright.

The teachers showed so much concern towards our children to teach them, make them understand, with such a comfort level, really appreciated, they all will be remembered for long, for their efforts, patience, perseverance to achieve the goal, to make it successful. It gives me an immense pleasure to provide this feedback as this was a wonderful experience for me as my son attending online classes from home in our presence. I really would like to thank the Principal for his planning in a certain way that the students did not miss even a single class or any single celebration from exhibition to annual day celebration to various competition.

It really shows the hard work put by the teachers in this pandemic situation. I got an opportunity to see how the teachers teach the students. Whenever I got time, I used to sit with my son during the online classes, I observed really the teachers were up to the mark. Some of my friends' children studying in other schools said "paying this year's school fees is a loss to the parents as there are no serious teaching done in those schools" but being a parent of Christ ICSE I would like to say "paying fees in Christ ICSE is worth". The school did not miss anything including competitions

THANK you, teachers, management, principal for putting their efforts to make best use of this situation For your students.....I have much to appreciate and express but there is a limit of 200 words.

I WOULD LIKE TO THANK PRINCIPAL FOR MAKING THIS YEAR BEST WHEN WHOLE WORLD WAS IN WORST SITUATION.

We would like to express our gratitude to you and your teachers for organizing online classes in this academic year due to pandemic. The work you have put in to take the school into next level by organising, communicating and coordinating online classes is really appreciable.

It is not often that you hear the student's especially new joiners of this academic year talking enthusiastically about the school or the teachers. This shows the impact and the magnitude of the recent changes. If the students are happier, then definitely your hard work is paid off and we are on the right track. Even though physical presence is not possible you organized virtually all the events (Principal's day, Teacher's day, Republic day, Grandparent's day, Environment day and many more)which made to feel little christites being close to Christ school. Speech on Three Monkeys, Handwriting competition, Silver Olympiad competitions raised the student's willingness to participate fearlessly.

Your thoughtfulness is a gift, christites will always treasure. We look forward to more success which we know that you are very much capable of.

This year had its challenges. We all faced a lot of hardships. But school was not one of them. We're very happy that my child learned a lot of new things even though there was no school. At first i thought online classes would not be very effective but you amazing teachers really made the online experience a lot of fun. All the activities were extremely fun and my child actively took part in most of them. This has been a new experience and a very good one without a doubt.

We'd like to thank all the teachers for being so patient, calm and supportive throughout. My child and I loved all the teachers. They were so friendly and interactive. My child would be very excited for online classes. If not for these classes she'd be very lazy and would become dull.

Academic year 20-21 was bundle of challenges to everyone irrespective of profession. A year with difficulties has strengthen this generation to adapt the change - especially in the education system. From Black Board to Ms Teams, chalk to Power Point Presentations and interrupted network were major discussions all the while. Yet this has introduced to Information Technology – the struggle of teacher, management, students and parents have always upheld the learning process of the kids. “Teachers put in so much more than 9 – 5 work hours. We would like to express our gratitude to the head of Christ ICSE school, Rev. Fr. Nilson Davis CMI, under whose leadership the school was functioning even during this pandemic.

We also express our deep gratitude and also appreciate the complete teaching and non-teaching staff, who put excellent efforts to make sure the students attended the school virtually without refraining from learning, participating in events, celebrating all festivals, and also taking part in competitions.

We congratulate the entire teaching faculty for successfully completing the entire academic year virtually by teaching the students online, by engaging the students with worksheets, revision-sheets and activities, by giving monthly viva assessments and keeping the parents updated about the progress of their children by conducting regular parent teacher meetings.

All the efforts by the teachers helped our son to learn the subjects without any hurdles and also gave him an opportunity to learn many things from the activities given to him. The worksheets and revision sheets given to him helped us to keep him engaged and also made it easier to prepare him for the tests.

Therefore, we thank the school for all their efforts for successful completion of this academic year. Three cheers to Christ ICSE team. Thanking you,

The academic year 2020-21 was not a pleasant year for all of us. Christ School has taken all the efforts and took all the measures that academic year doesn't stop.

Online/Virtual is a new platform to most of the teachers. With all the challenges throughout the year, the teacher's efforts are definitely appreciable. Children are missing school, teachers, fun with friends and the world beyond their homes.

With this pandemic and 2nd wave, things seem to be uncertain. But I am confident that school will definitely come up with new methods of teaching in the coming academic year to be more excited and interesting to the Christites.

I thank and appreciate Principal Fr. Nilson Davis, each and every teacher and the team who worked hard to make these virtual classes, programs possible and effective.

I would like to mention that I was initially concerned about the online classes that how teachers will handle this new way of teaching as they don't have any prior online teaching experience. At the same time, I was concerned about my son as to how he will get adjusted with a new way of teaching. We all know that online classes are not a substitute of classroom teaching. But I am happy that at such unprecedented times, teachers are putting their best effort for making the online classes successful.

Thanks for the extra effort that teachers are putting in during this pandemic time. I really appreciate all the teachers' dedication, punctuality, hard work and support.

We appreciate your efforts on the way you conducted the online exams to each student which is very time consuming and impressed by the way you are providing the details of the students to parents through WhatsApp group and through PTM.

As a responsible citizen and parent, I would like to congratulate your team on completing one academic year during this pandemic without missing any of the curriculum activities either technical (Teaching, Exams) or non-technical (PTM, activities like Esperanza).

Though I am occupied with office work, under your guidance your team has done the execution part through Microsoft Teams to conduct classes, PTM, Activities like Esperanza in a very organized and professional way. This helped us to plan and balance my office work and support my son in his school activities. Christ school proved it is known for executing any task in an organized and professional way.

The pandemic was indeed a safety concern for our child and the concern extended to her education too. However, Christ school with its online classes with complete dedication, patience and coordination (which we understand is not easy in online), was remarkable. The School day was icing on the cake. We thought we wouldn't be seeing a School day celebration this year, but it came to us with a surprise and was a commendable performance by the students. This wouldn't have been possible without the dedication of Christites Teachers and Management. I'm proud to have my child studying in such prestigious school which is really dedicated to have our child to shout out loud "We are the light of the World"

COVID-19 has caused a huge problem for the world and children's education. It has stopped children from going to school and build a strong connection with teachers but online classes were like a bridge from students to teachers during this Pandemic situation. And students didn't feel that they were not going to school. This is made possible by our principal and all our teachers. And even the programs were held in such a presentable manner which was released in the youtube channel. It gave many opportunities for the children. And even the competition such as DCL, Esperanza, and many zonal examinations which was held in nice manner. Thank you, dear principal, and thank you for all the teachers.

You have real worked very hard for us. We will always be grateful to you.

I take this opportunity to thank you all teachers and school authorities to coordinate and conduct online classes, so effectively and efficiently, last year. You all made sure that learning is not stopped due to the pandemic situation. Students were engaged in projects and activities, seminars, exhibitions and cultural activities like any other days. This method of teaching was new to everyone, but nothing could stop learning. All portions were covered meticulously and exams were conducted. It gives us immense satisfaction to see our daughter attending her classes without missing an academic year. All teachers took pain in making sure that children are following them and are attentive in class. There were revisions and homework's given. We also made sure that we too cooperate with school, and provide all that our child would need to make this online classes more effective. We encouraged Anjana to participate in events like Food Plating, Extempore, Word Environment day etc.

We thank you all teachers from bottom of our hearts for holding our child's hand even during such a crisis.

This worked out to some extent in controlling the pandemic but affect many people financial condition. Schools were closed for the safety of children.
