EXCELSIOR

Ever upward and still higher...

Vol-XIII : Issue -I
May & June - 2023

From the Principal's Desk

Rev. Fr. Nilson Davis CMI

Dear Christites,

The CMI educational Policy states that “Education is the integral formation of the human person for the fulfilment of his/her individual and social responsibilities. Our educational endeavours aim at forming leaders who are intellectually competent, spiritually mature, morally upright, psychologically integrated, physically healthy and socially acceptable; who will champion the cause of justice, love, truth and peace and who are ever open to further growth”

We the Christ School ICSE has taken “Excellentia, Empowering to Excel” as our Annual Academic Year Theme.

Intellectual excellence or Competence plays a crucial role in the holistic development of a child, fostering cognitive abilities that extend far beyond academics. The brain development of a child is inherently malleable during early years, making it imperative to train the brain effectively and efficiently to maximize its potential.

Parents, teachers, and students collaboratively shape a child's brain development and intellectual excellence. Parents instill curiosity and support a stimulating home environment. Teachers employ effective teaching methodologies and inspire a thirst for knowledge. Students actively participate, embracing new subjects and learning experiences. This synergy fosters critical thinking, problem-solving, and emotional intelligence, enabling holistic growth during the early years. Such intellectual excellence equips children to face life's challenges, build meaningful relationships, and become well-rounded individuals, paving the way for a bright and successful future.

An exemplary figure is Albert Einstein. His insatiable curiosity and dedication to learning allowed him to delve deeply into complex scientific concepts. Einstein's thought experiments, like imagining riding a beam of light, showcased his extraordinary ability to think creatively and critically. His relentless pursuit of knowledge led to groundbreaking theories, such as the theory of relativity. By nurturing such a mindset in students, they can develop a profound understanding of various subjects, push the boundaries of knowledge, and achieve intellectual excellence

Nurturing intellectual competence and excellence in students goes far beyond academic achievement. It is the key to unlocking their full potential, fostering a well-rounded personality, and empowering them to contribute positively to society. By training young minds to embrace knowledge and engage in experiential learning, we lay the foundation for a brighter, more insightful future.

Excelsior my dear Christites.

Vice Principal's Message

My Dear Friends,

I am greatly delighted that a theme which is crucial to our Academic life is selected to be the topic of our reflection for this academic year – Excellencia!! Excellence is not a destination but rather a lifelong journey that requires commitment, dedication and continuous selfreflection. For students, the pursuit of excellence goes beyond obtaining good grades or achieving academic success. It encompasses personal growth, intellectual development and the cultivation of essential skills that will shape their future. Excellence should be seen as a guiding principle in the lives of students and it should play a pivotal role in their quest for greatness.

Excellence is the relentless pursuit of the highest standards and the willingness to go above and beyond what is expected. It is the drive to continually improve oneself, to surpass limitations, and to reach new heights of personal and academic achievements. It is opportune to bring to our attention that Pope Francis has warned us against the temptation and vice of mediocrity. Students who strive for excellence must understand that mediocrity is not an option and that every task they undertake is an opportunity for growth and self-improvement.

To embark on the path of excellence, students must set high standards for themselves. This involves establishing clear goals, both short-term and long-term, that are challenging yet attainable. By setting ambitious targets, students push themselves out of their comfort zones and unleash their full potential. These standards serve as benchmarks for measuring progress and provide a sense of purpose and direction in their educational aims and academic life.

We are truly proud that our Institutions, teachers and management have been providing the best atmosphere for the students to grow and reach to their full intellectual, academic and human potential. We are ever more committed in this task of providing the best for our students so that they do not follow any standards, but set standards which will inspire the new generations to follow. Let us in this way produce what exceeds our own expectations and what surpasses our own limits. This is true EXCELLENCIA!!!

I pray and wish that this Academic Year be one that is truly Excellent and that all of us be nothing but inspiration to others!!!

With Best Wishes and Prayers,

Fr. Reji Koodappattu CMI

EXCELLENCIA

“Excellence is a gradual result of always striving to do better.” -Pat Riley

The theme of the year is Excellencia. Christ School ICSE has chosen this theme as it always has the excellence to differentiate the extraordinary from the ordinary. Those who strive for excellence will have longevity in their endeavours. It is both yardstick and benchmark. When you benchmark against other achievers, you tend to achieve and grow. Christ School ICSE strives hard to be a benchmark in contributing to the five main holistic growth of students, such as Intellectually Excellent, Socially Excellent, Morally Excellent, Emotionally Excellent and Physically Excellent. Excellence is never an accident. It is always the result of high intention, sincere effort and intelligent execution. It represents the wise choice of many alternatives-choice, not chances that determines your destiny. To achieve excellence, we have to pursue it and ignore success, as success is a by-product of excellence.

Dear Christites,

New year brings forth new beginnings, new hopes and aspirations to each and everyone. The one who starts the year with hopes to succeed, a willingness to achieve and a strong determination, certainly kisses the feet of success.

The theme for this academic year is “EXCELLENCIA”. It is rightly chosen and has been adopted by the means of thorough introspection of the life's experiences by the prime minds. 'Excellencia' which means to ace in every endeavour, certainly reflects the spirit of a true Christite. A certain aspect of being excellent has been dedicated to every month of this academic year to help in the holistic development of each Christite. The theme for this month is being “Intellectually competent”. There is a plethora of dimensions to intellectual competence and it certainly doesn't mean being the smartest person on the Earth. It means that a certain level of competency should be possessed by one while accomplishing a task. A person who is intellectually competent is someone who not only has knowledge, but also wisdom. It is essential to have the wisdom to function in a manner that is fit to not only our own benefit, but also the benefit of society as a whole. Being intellectually competent can be one of the hardest but the most rewarding virtue a man can possess.

Regardless of what the reward can be, it is important to have a competency in the intellectual level. All we need is a sliver of this value, and the world can be a much better place in any situation imaginable.

NCC ANNUAL TRAINING CAMP-I

"True discipline is really just self-remembering; no forcing or fighting is necessary." -Charles Eisenstein

The Annual Training Camp-I was organized from 10th June to 19th June, at Christ University, Kengeri, Bengaluru-74. It was a 10 days camp that taught us how to live in a disciplined and well-behaved manner. It also taught us time management, patience, teamwork and most importantly how to live independently without our parents. Cadets who always depended on their parents learned essential life skills like doing their own laundry, washing their dishes, polishing their shoes, and getting up from their beds without throwing a tantrum. We learned how to adjust to a good sleep time schedule and the food that was provided. We had our meals at the right time and they provided excellent and nutritious food for everyone. We had P.T. Parades, Theory Classes, Drills, Weapon Training, ANO Lectures, Guest Lectures and Games Periods. We also got a chance to fire with the SLR gun, in which Cadet Riya Thomas secured first place in firing. We also got the best living facilities that they could provide. We were productive in those 10 days and learned many things that would be hard to find elsewhere. I would like to express my sincere gratitude to our Principal who gave us the opportunity to attend the Annual Training Camp-I.

YOGA FOR HEALTH

Yoga is an ancient Art which was originated in India around six thousand years ago. Earlier people were used to practice Yoga and Meditation in their daily lives to live healthy and strong. The word "YOGA" is appears in Rig Veda, a collection of ancient texts. Yoga comes from the Sanskrit word "YUJ", which means "Union" or "to join". Yoga is important for everyone's life as it helps in balancing the relationship between body and mind. It is a type of exercise that helps to learn physical and mental discipline through regular practice. A world level event is celebrated every year called the International Day of yoga to increase the awareness of yoga benefits worldwide. World yoga day has been declared (by the United Nations General Assembly) to be celebrated on the 21st of June every year after suggestion and initiation of India. Yoga connects our body, mind, breath and spirit with nature. It is not physical practice only, but also it allows a human to control mental, emotional and spiritual thoughts.

In the beginning of this academic year Holy Mass was celebrated on 22nd June 2023. Fr. Reji Koodappattu was the celebrant of the Holy Mass. The Mass was celebrated specially to fulfill the good intentions of class 10 students. Mass started after receiving offertory from the students of class 10. Fr. Reji gave a heart touching message to students during Mass. His message was all about the unconditional love of Heavenly Father. He reminded them that as the children of same Father, we also have duty to love each other unconditionally. The choir group sang melodious Hymns and made the celebration very beautiful and meaningful.
